

Kofi Anie

Dr. Kofi A. Anie, UK, Consultant Psychologist & Honorary Clinical Senior Lecturer, London North West University Healthcare NHS Trust & Imperial College London.

Dr Kofi A. Anie is the Psychology Service Lead for children and adults with sickle cell disease and thalassaemia at London North West University Healthcare NHS Trust, and an Honorary Clinical Senior Lecturer at Imperial College London. He trained at the University of Surrey and University of London, and began his professional career at King's College Hospital, London where he pioneered psychological interventions for children with sickle cell disease. He was later a Research Fellow at St George's University of London, and was appointed to his current position in 1998. He is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Medicine and Associate Fellow of the British Psychological Society; his other professional affiliations include the British Association of Behavioural and Cognitive Psychotherapies, and American Psychological Association.

